Pure natural jade:

We use jade as raw material: processed into exquisite decorations to beautify life, cultivate character, and even prevent illness and prolong life. Its products are directly used for fitness and health care, such as in infrared rooms or saunas, which have the therapeutic effects of nourishing the skin, calming and calming the mind.

Top equipped with red light therapy lamp for physical therapy, making your body healthier

Most of the red light absorbed by the skin promotes the production of collagen, making the skin healthier and more hydrated. Red660nm: 850nm=1:1 (combination of red and near-infrared light) provides an equal percentage of red light near 660nm and 850nm, providing versatility for overall health.

850nm near-infrared light penetrates deep into the body, promoting muscle recovery and reducing joint pain.

Faster recovery after work, enhanced muscle endurance, enhanced muscle performance, reduced fitness fatigue

Quickly repair muscle strain, improve fitness effectiveness

a medical technique in which exposures to low-level laser light or light-emitting diodes (LEDs) stimulate cellular function leading to beneficial clinical effects. LED is a semiconductor device available at wavelengths ranging from ultraviolet (UV) to visible to near-infrared (NIR) bandwidth that converts electrical current into a non-coherent narrow bandwidth of the electromagnetic spectrum.

It isn't just light that we can see that comes from the sun. While light can be split up into a spectrum of many different wavelength and colors.

-We main focus on the visible red light and invisible near infrared light, which have the identified benefits to human body.

-Study shows red 620nm-670nm can penetrates deep into the skin of 4-5mm, while Near infrared light 740-880nm can much more deeper reach to subcutaneous layer and increase blood flow.

micron far-infrared line is most closely related to the human body. It can penetrate the skin, resonate with deep cells in the human body, activate cells, accelerate blood circulation, and enhance tissue regeneration ability. The production of humans and animals cannot be separated from it. Therefore, the 5-20 micron far-infrared line is called the "light of life". Nanocarbon fibers emit far-infrared radiation with a wavelength of 5-20 microns and an emissivity rate of over 90%. Therefore, nanocarbon fiber heating clothing is an excellent light for safety and life: 6-14 microns, environmentally friendly, healthy, and intelligently adjustable health clothing. ## USER MANUAL

The main energy in sunlight is the far-red line, which is invisible to the human eye. Among them, the 5-20 micron far-infrared line is most closely related to the human body. It can penetrate the skin, resonate with deep cells in the human body, activate cells, accelerate blood circulation, and enhance tissue regeneration ability. The production of humans and animals cannot be separated from it. Therefore, the 5-20 micron far-infrared line is called the "light of life". Nanocarbon fibers emit far-infrared radiation with a wavelength of 5-20 microns and an emissivity rate of over 90%. Therefore, nanocarbon fiber heating clothing is an excellent light for safety and life: 6-14 microns, environmentally friendly, healthy, and intelligently adjustable health clothing.

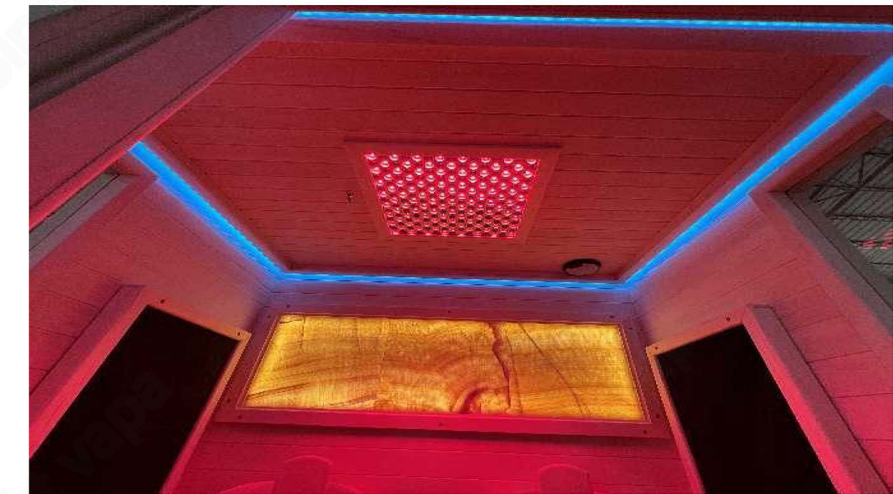

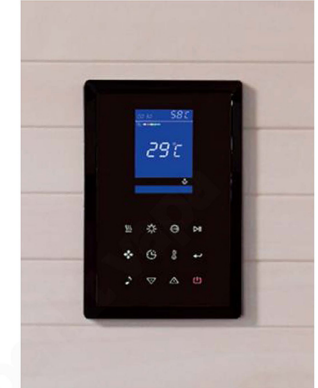

What exactly is "far infrared"

Light is divided into visible light and invisible light, and far-infrared light is a type of invisible light that has the ability to directly penetrate deep into the human body. Far infrared radiation can increase human body temperature, promote microvascular dilation, enhance blood circulation, enhance the regenerative ability of human tissues, and suppress abnormalities in perceptual nerves. The history of hyperthermia therapy in traditional medicine.

The Health Effect of Far Infrared Fiber Weaving on the Human Body

Far infrared radiation is different from other light rays. Its biggest feature is high thermal energy, which can evenly penetrate deep into the human body without burning the surface skin, thus producing a warm effect from point to surface and from the surface to the inside.

Substances that are harmful to human body temperature are eliminated from the body through sweat glands and sebaceous glands according to the above functions. For example, carcinogenic heavy metals and crude mutual inductance, fatty acids from food additives and non fatty acids from lactic acid, can cause fatigue, aging, increase calcium ions in the fluid, and lead to hypertension and subcutaneous fat.

Sauna/Far infrared light wave room/s room/Introduction

The following introduction mainly reflects the classification and functional effect of the internal heater of the room:

Far infrared heating box

Far infrared heating box for spectrum room, collectively known as: spectrum room or light wave room

It is a kind of far infrared ray which has the same effect as the heating plate, and can heat up faster than the heating plate.

Far infrared heating plate

Far infrared heating plate is used in the spectrum room, which is collectively referred to as spectrum room or light wave room

It is a far-infrared radiation with a specific wavelength of 5.6um-15um, which has certain beneficial effects on the human body.

Tomalin backrest + bamboo mat + hot plate

Tomalin stone backrest with bamboo mat for the sweat room. Collectively referred to as: sweat steam room.

Through the heating plate heating, the indoor temperature belongs to the low temperature room, no water vapor.

steam machine

The wet steam machine is used in the wet steam room,

Collectively referred to as: wet steaming room.

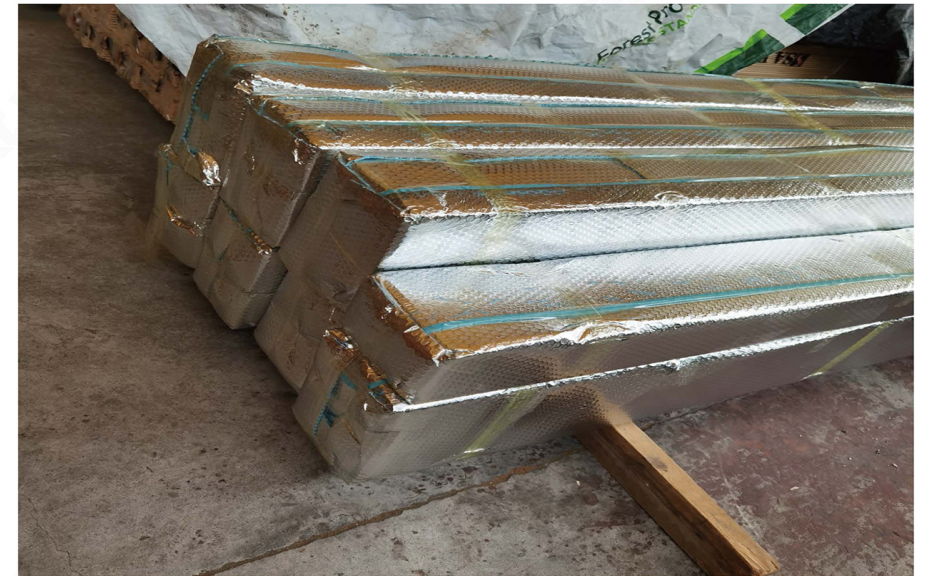

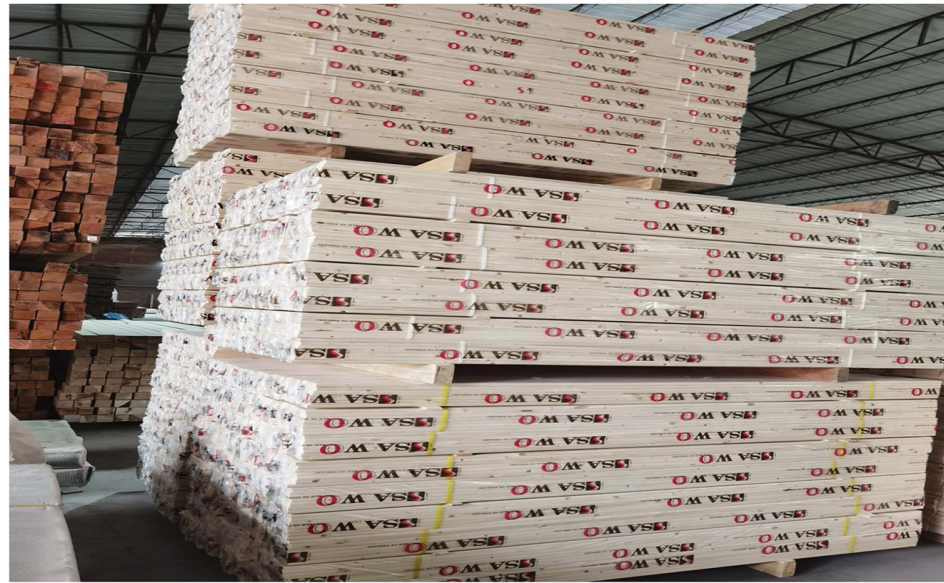

Water vapor heating is produced by water vapor in and out of the wet steam machine for acrylic wet steam room.

Sauna stove

Sauna furnace for sauna room, objective customers also known as: sauna room, dry steam room.

By watering, the stones on the sauna stove give off steam to keep the room moist and heated.

Product packaging

We use: aluminum film packaging/plywood packaging/foam packaging performance: waterproof and anti-collision
